

Welcome Back from Sukkos!

From the Principal

Mrs. Lea Goldstein

Wow! It's been a busy week! We rolled right out of our Sukkos and into full-time school. Are you interested in what's been keeping us busy? Here's a brief synopsis, but please don't forget to read each teachers' weekly email update so you know exactly what's going on in your children's classes.

- Grades K -5 have been doing Pearson Aimsweb Plus assessments over the last few days to help us determine if students are eligible for Title I services.
- The 8th grade girls are progressing in their computer coding skills.
- The 6th - 8th grade boys have started their Ivrit/Shop/Construction classes, where they will be building things while speaking in Hebrew.
- The 6/7 Girls are studying the Renaissance and are working on their choice-board selections including: Around the World in 1,000 Days, The Art of Perspective, But is it Shakespeare?, To Sail or Not to Sail and other interactive topics.
- Sukkos might be over, but the 4/5 Boys are busy in meseches Sukkah with geometry.
- The 4/5 Girls have been examining the political process on a smaller scale as they decide whether or not to pool their incentive stickers. They have outlined their positions, debated and voted.
- The 3rd Grade classroom is becoming an ocean! They are even growing stingrays. They might be switching from masks to scuba gear...
- The 2nd graders have started Writers' Workshop and are learning about the writing process.
- The 1st Graders are learning Chumash and astronomy simultaneously! Ask them about the luminaries and parshas Bereishis this week. They are becoming experts!
- Kindergarten is learning the letter "F" and their math centers are so much fun!

Also, Baruch Hashem, we've been having mostly great weather and have been trying to load our little people up on their vitamin D by holding lots of PE classes and recesses outdoors.

Thank You to...

- ~Pencils & Paper for their generous donation of boxes of folders, pens, markers, crayons, glue, and, of course, pencils and papers! Our staff and students were very excited to see all the donations and they are already using them!
