

This Week at DHR...

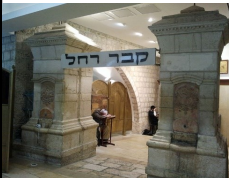

From the Principal

Mrs. Lea Goldstein

Tomorrow, the 11th of Cheshvan, is the Yahrzeit of Rochel Imeinu, the anniversary of Rachel our Matriarch's death. In school this week, your children's teachers talked about how we commemorate and try to learn from the amazing compassion that Rachel Imeinu displayed to her sister.

This yahrzeit gives us another opportunity, both at home and at school, to try to instill in our children that sense of compassion that allows for the development of a true, objective perspective on life by seeing the positive sparks of holiness inherent in all humanity. We endeavor to impart to our children the concept that just as we beg Hashem for mercy and ask him to ignore our shortcomings, so too, we should show mercy and compassion without judging whether or not a person deserves our kindness.

Finally, we work to reinforce the lesson that Rachel suffered, and gave up everything that she had aspired to, to avoid embarrassing her sister. May we be worthy to raise kind, selfless children who follow in the footsteps of Rachel Imeinu.

Scholarship Auction

DHR's Scholarship Auction is exactly a month away!!! I am sure that you are wondering what you can do to help make the auction a most successful fundraiser. Nearly 90% of our families are receiving scholarships and/or special discounts on tuition. Therefore, it is imperative that we have a very successful event. So, back to my question, "What can you do to help?"

The answer is to please spread the word about our auction! We have loads of great packages to win, delicious food to enjoy, and all sorts of beer and beverages to imbibe. But, most importantly, WE NEED PEOPLE TO ATTEND THE EVENT!! Help us spread the word! Please talk up the auction to your friends and neighbors. Please come and bring some friends along! It's going to be a wonderful evening!

7/8 Girls in the Kitchen

The 7/8 girls made rugelach for the JCC Book Fair's 48 Hours of Food, with help from Mrs. Malkie Noble. The girls worked with Mrs. Davidowitz to write the rugelach recipe in Hebrew during Ivrit class. Great job girls!

Middos Menchen Stars of the Week

Hadassah did השבת אבדה, she returned a lost object!
Shmuel got two Middos Menchen's this week! He had great manners in class AND helped to push in all the chairs for the class. Awesome job!
